We ensure our pupils succeed academically through excellent online teaching and support. Now that we have returned to full-time online learning, our provisions mean that we can continue to provide a high-quality education experience. We also recognise that learning from home will not always be straightforward, with multiple family members needing to work and study simultaneously in the same space. The programme we have devised is based on our current curriculum with vital feedback from existing parents. Supported by both live (synchronous) and pre-prepared (asynchronous) lessons and resources, our online learning offers a blend of different teaching methods and gives families the flexibility they need during changing times, as well as ensuring we are able to maintain our pupils' academic progress.
